NEWSPAPER-OWNERSHIP IS A TRUST WHICH SERVES PUBLIC, MAKES PROFIT

"I have never regarded the stock I owned in the News and Observer as property but as certificates of trust to be administered for the common good of the people . . . I advise and enjoin those who direct the paper in the tomorrow never to advocate any cause for personal profit or preference . . . if the paper should at any time be the voice of self-interest or become the spokesman of privilege or selfishness, it would be untrue to its history."

—From the will of the late Josephus Daniels, Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer.

Those are words which epitomize true journalism. They are certain to find their way into the text books, anthologies and memories of newspapermen, for the ages. A modern classic has been born—from the pen of a man who was writing his will and who wanted his ideals to be known.

They are simple words, true words.

They are a salient beacon toward which young writers should aim—in whose light older writers should stand.

Now the late Josephus Daniels was not a poor man. He ran a profitable newspaper, he paid his help well, he was sufficiently financed through his work to live a good life, give his family the better things and carry on comfortably in secure, advanced age.

When we say, cold-heartedly, that the newspaper must be financially stable to do public service, we do not mean that it must be grasping until it reaches its full footing. There is no gap—no overlooking the ethics—early in a newspaper's rise so one may come back to his policies after it has reached the higher brackets.

The public need must be served first, last, always. It can be served without loss of money. Indeed, it may mean more money—because the public will be more appreciative.

Service to the public is not a question of theory versus practice. It is practice. The mere fact that newspapers have become "big business" does not alter the requirement. — From The Publisher's Auxiliary Published in Chicago.

Time Will Bring State Regulation Of Electricity And Gas

TALLAHASSEE.—Sooner or later the small cities and the counties of Florida will demand state regulations of the rates and services of electric and gas utilities as they have required such regulations of telephones and transportation, Lewis W. Barbecue On Labor Day At Boynton Beach County-Wide Fete

Palm Beach County's Labor Day Free Barbecue, September 6th at Boynton Beach is to be financed on a county-wide basis, John Bollinger, Barbecue Committee General Chairman, has announced.

Bollinger reported Sheriff John Kirk, Finance Committee Chairman, has issued an appeal to everyone in the county to "make this the event of the year in this area." Individuals and organizations may contribute to the Barbecue fund by sending their donations to Box 107, West Palm Beach in care of the Labor Day Barbecue Committee.

It has been estimated by Ray Iverson, Committee member, the cost of the Barbecue this year will be $6,000 and he estimates 42 steaks averaging 700 pounds each will be needed to feed the expected 25,000 persons at the Farmers Market on U. S. 1 at Boynton Beach.

The first county-wide Labor Day Barbecue was spearheaded last year by the Resources Development Board in response to a spontaneous movement by citizens of the county "who thought we should get together and rub elbows", according to B. Elliott, Committee co-chairman.

This year the plans for the celebration are expected to gain more momentum as more people in the county lend their support to the annual Barbecue.

Sheriff Kirk a week ago organized the campaign for funds on a pro-rata basis of population in the communities of the county. Mayors of each community were named as chairman to finance campaigns in their own communities. Plans this year for inviting Government dignitaries are more extensive than last year with invitations issued to State Supreme Court Justices, the Governor and his Cabinet, the entire State Legislature, the Governor Elect, and the entire delegation to the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives. Senator Claude Pepper and Representative Dwight L. Rogers have accepted invitations to date according to Bollinger. Senator Spessard L. Holland has said that he will attend if Congress is not in session. All other members of the Senate and House of Representatives have also been invited Bollinger said.

At the Barbecue thousands of pounds of beef will be served by 100 women at the Farmers Market on Labor Day.

Plans have been made for a variety of entertainment Gies reported. Arrangements are under way to set up concessions supplementary to the Barbecue.

Names of the Finance Committee in Canal Point include: Francis Cross, Chairman, and Harold Rosenberg, co-chairman.

A new sulfa drug said to be effective in the fight against infantile paralysis has been developed by the Lederle Laboratories in New York, it was announced recently. No definite claims are being made but tests are underway in stricken areas.

Don't Hold Your Breath

You still hear people talking about buying something or other "when prices go back to normal." Anyone has a perfect right to defer his purchasing in hope of a price millennium. But judging by the evidence, he's going to have a long wait indeed.

The inflationary pressures are as strong as ever. The upward wage adjustments are taking place. The national income is still at or near its peak. The government is showing little disposition to economize in any direction. The cost of the European Aid Program and the preparedness program will turn more dollars loose, and lead to more competition for scarce goods. Nothing, in fact, indicates the probability of important price drops for any kind of commodity in general use.

We all hope for lower prices. But don't hold your breath while waiting.—Melbourne Times.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

(By Russell Kay)

I really started something when I wrote that goofy column about W. G. K. (World's Greatest Kitty) and described all the fantastic feats he performed.

Since it appeared in the public prints I have been receiving letters from hither and yon addressed to "Mr. Peleg Boggs" or W. G. K. and it is apparent that there are other folks in the world as screwy as I am.

One of the cleverest letters received came from "Hercules Mulligan" of Orlando, who evidently borrowed a piece of stationery from Warren Furber Gould, Route 3, Box 442, who wrote as follows:

"There recently appeared in the Orlando Sentinel a most extraordinary narrative relative to your manifold activities during your residence in the household of your indulgent foster parent, Mr. Russell Kay, who, because of his benevolent instincts toward you, must be forsooth, a very estimable gentleman.

"In these parlous times fraught with fearsome prospects, it is indeed like a refreshing draught to the drooping spirit to read such an inspirational human interest essay as was composed so enchantingly about the fond companionship of a little cat.

"The fact that you lacked a heraldic pedigree and undoubtedly bore upon your escutcheon the bar sinister made no difference in the warmth of the hospitality which gave you so freely the blessed sanctuary of a lifelong shelter and freedom from want.

"You must have been endowed with a happy disposition and the ability to quickly adapt yourself to changing conditions from the way you immediately purr'd your charming personality right into the little daughter's expansive heart. You were an expert salesman. But it is a safe bet that the little mistress and the kind master firmly believe that you have returned to them at least a hundredfold full meed of affection and appreciation for having taken you into their home.

"Now, Mr. Boggs, it is quite evident that you possess hundreds of friends and admirers who are intensely interested in your various accomplishments and ebullient activities, some of which have been of a startling nature. Because we unhesitatingly believe everything that Russell Kay has related about you, it only serves to whet our appetites for more pabulum to nourish our impetuous eagerness to sustain further cognition of your fascinating adventures.

"So please furnish us with more exciting episodes connected with your short but hectic life as a house guest of the Kays. Did you ever enter the field of politics and what offices did you seek? Are you considering being a stand-in for Eisenhower? Are you interested in socioeconomics? How do you stand on Truman? What about his civil rights program? And do you believe with Pythagoras, in the transmigration of souls? Please state your platform.

"Many of your followers would like to become better acquainted with you. We suggest to your catalogist, Mr. Kay, that he promote you to the lecture platform and town meeting from where full vent may be accorded to the scope of your dazzling genius. It is confidently predicted you will attract tremendous audiences who will flock to hear from your own lips a catapulting of cataclysmic cata-phonics.

"With best personal regards, Mr. Boggs, and trusting this find you in a state of categorical salubrity, I remain your devoted cat-alyst at Orlando."

Another correspondent, alarmed over W. G. K.'s waning fistability, writes to offer the suggestion that he take up jiu jitsu as a means of personal defense. Few cats he points out, especially those young swaggering toughs in the back alley, have any knowledge of this are of defense, and visions of their surprise when Mr. Boggs grasps them by a paw and a twists them in a knot.

He even received an offer of marriage from an elderly lady cat in Sebring who claims she has two silk pillows, a catnip ball and numerous beautiful pink and blue ribbons, all of which she is willing to share, provided he is content to settle down and purr, sweet nothings in her ear.

Apparently bored and unimpressed by all this hero worship, W. G. K. sniffed at this correspondence, languidly stretched himself, sharpened his claws on our best Morris chair, reached for his top hat and walking stick and as is his usual custom, disappeared into the night, seeking no doubt another adventure.

Mrs. Joughin Wins Theatre Jackpot

Mrs. Mona L. Joughin was the winner of the $73 jackpot at the Prince Theatre, Pahokee, Tuesday, receiving a congratulatory round of applause from the audience, with congratulations from the management of the Gold-Dobrow theatres, Jerry Gold.

The question was: "Who is the high commissioner of baseball?" Mrs. Joughin answered, without a moment's hesitation, "Happy Chandler."

Malcolm Millar stated just before going on the stage as Master-of-ceremonies: "If it's a man, the jackpot's gone . . . But, if it is a member of the fairer sex, I believe the jackpot will stand."

How Wrong You Were Malcolm. At the next session of Theatre Quiz Party, which will be Tuesday night, the jackpot will start over again at $25, and the fave will be there to try again for the prize.

Mrs. W. Harold Webb, sr., is visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. H. Webb in Lake Alfred this week.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

Against the complex pattern of modern espionage, there emerges the gripping human drama of a young man and his wife who, as they become more deeply involved in the mesh of intrigue, are to take the step that is to drastically alter the course of their lives. It remains for this couple, portrayed by Dana Andrews and Gene Tierney, overwhelmed with doubts they never knew could exist, to blow the sensational plot wide open, and in so doing, condemn themselves to a life of fear and hiding. It is the combination of gripping drama and the fascinating suspenseful machinations of the amazing spy plot that makes for thrilling and unusual entertainment from start to finish.

Dana Andrews and Gene Tierney give the performances of their lives in these roles, so difficult to play. In fact, all members of the exceptionally chosen cast turn in more than creditable performances.

The play is "The Iron Curtain" and it will be screened at the Prince Theatre, in Pahokee, Sunday-Monday, August, 15-16.

See you at the movies—Mal.

PRELUDE TO ACCIDENT- Injury - - - Death!

Every violation of the center line of safety is a potential prelude to accident.

Crossing into the danger zone can occur at the approach to the top of a hill—on a curve—going into an underpass, or even on the straight highway. That's reckless, dangerous driving! Accident records show that about one half of all fatal traffic accidents result from bad driving habits such as these.

It's your responsibility to yourself, your family and to others who share the road to avoid these "Pass-Pockets" where lurk injury—and death.

Don't let impatient driving tag your conscience with being one of those who contributed to the maiming or death of the hundreds of thousands who will be auto accident victims this year.

You can be a safe driver if you will. It's up to you.

Demo Chairman Is Enthusiastic Over His Party's Record

DELAND — Chairman Alex D. Littlefield of the State Democratic Executive Committee here this week pointed to the record to show what 15 years of National Democratic Administration have meant for the people of Florida.

Littlefield laid particular emphasis upon the effect on Florida's agricultural economy of Democratic Administration policies.

"Florida farmers realize full well the benefits they have received through the work of a Democratic President and Congress, when they compare their present position with the grim, dark days of the last Hoover-Republican depression," the state chairman said.

"Cash income of Florida farmers was more than $354 million last year compared with only $82 million in 1932," he pointed out. "And our state's farmers earned only $118 million in the Republican boom year of 1928."

The State Democratic Chairman cited as other highlights of benefits to Florida farmers of National Democratic leadership:

1. Florida milk was selling at $3.98 a hundredweight in 1932. The average 1947 price was $7.16. And in the GOP's prosperous 1929 milk was worth only $5.67.

2. Farm mortgages, an excellent index of rural prosperity, have decreased steadily during the Democratic Administration. More than $97 million in mortgages was outstanding in 1929 in Florida. Last year the debt had been reduced to $41 million.

3. The Farm Credit Administration, established by the Democrats in 1933, has helped 12,000 Florida residents to buy farms with loans of more than $300 million.

4. More than half of Florida's farmers are participating in the agricultural conservation program of the Production and Marketing Administration.

5. In 12 years the Rural Electrification Administration has helped Florida co-operatives to string more than 8,000 miles of lines serving nearly 27,000 farmers. Today almost 60 per cent of the state's farms have electricity. When the REA was set up by the Democrats in 1935, only eight per cent of Florida farmers had electric lights.

More Men Attend Stetson Than Women

DELAND — Men outnumber women students on the Stetson University campus this summer four to one. This is a higher ratio than ever before enjoyed by the Stetson co-eds. Figures released by the registrar's office show that of the 1,041 enrolled this summer, 829 are men, 212 are women.

Veterans on the Stetson campus total 724, of whom 15 are women. Evidence of the veterans' boom is also reflected in the figures for age groups which show a predominating number of men in the older brackets. Of the 829 men registered, 650 are 22 years of age or older. In normal times, most students have finished college training by their 23rd year.

As usual, the College of Liberal Arts leads, with an enrollment of 607, the School of Business is second with 229, the College of Law has 176, and the School of Music has 29 enrolled for the summer term.

The 1,041 students are drawn from 34 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone, Greece, China, and Palestine.

Food Will Be Short In Years To Come, Says Chemical Mfr.

TAMPA — In a few years the world with its present methods will not be able to produce enough food to feed its leaping population. R. B. Fuller, manager of the International Mineral and Chemical Corporation's Florida branch at Mulberry, told members of the local Kiwanis Club.

Even now, as a matter of fact, not enough food is being produced to adequately feed the world's population.

Fuller pointed out that farmers have failed to replace the phosphorus taken from the soil and stated that in 25 states not enough phosphate was put back into the soil to replace that taken out.

Fuller estimated that the great agricultural state of Illinois could use 10 million tons of phosphate, and said it would take that much to revitalize its soil.

The amount of good fertile land in the world is depicting rapidly and it is imperative that phosphate be used if starvation is to be avoided.

Fifty-two per cent of the world's known phosphate deposits, he said are in Florida and he predicted steady expansion of the phosphate industry in this state.

Other race tracks may be off, but Hialeah is doing a record sightseeing business this summer. A survey shows an 18 per cent increase in attendance at the Florida showplace track, which is kept open between racing meetings as a public park.

Rev. Howes Completed Mission Study Text

Rev. Carson T. Howes completed the mission study text, "Ten Thousand Years," at the August meeting of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service which met at the church Monday afternoon. It was introduced by Mrs. John A. Dulany.

During the business session members voted to make a donation of $100 to the Methodist student house on the campus at the University of Florida in Gainesville. The donation was made after an appeal by Donald Padgett, student at the University and president of the Wesley Foundation there. Donald, as president, is interested in raising funds this summer to assist with expansion work at the student house which is inadequate to care for approximately 2,000 Methodist students who attend the University.

Members voted to contribute $100 toward a movie projector for the church. Also funds to purchase flower containers for the church and a punch bowl for the organization.

Mrs. G. W. Byrd, chairman of the Christian Social Relations and local work committee, will be in charge of purchasing the articles. Members will entertain the Pahokee Ministerial Association members and their wives at a dinner meeting in September. Resignations from Mrs. D. D. Caullill, as secretary of missionary education and Mrs. J. M. Elliott as vice-president, were read and accepted. Mrs. John A. Dulany, president, said that these vacancies will be filled at the September meeting.

Mrs. Maude S. Pankey of Ruston, La., Mrs. Ben S. Waring, Madison, Fla., Donald Padgett and Rev. Howes were visitors. There were 23 attending.

That's right! When you must walk on the highways in rural or suburban areas, always walk on the left side of the road facing traffic.

There is plenty of reason for this. Last year for every person killed facing traffic three were killed walking with traffic. 24 Floridians lost their lives and 33 were injured walking the wrong way instead of facing oncoming cars. For every daytime fatality there were 4 deaths during the dusk and dark hours. Six more people lost their lives merely standing in the road.

Never assume you are safe when walking on the highways—many times you are hard to see. Then, too, the despicable hit and run driver is still at large—his numbers and his victims increasing. In the first six months of 1946, 78 hit-and-run accidents were recorded in Florida and 16 were killed by these car cowards.

So remember for your own sake—on highways, walk to the left facing traffic—be alert to danger—be alive tomorrow.
